Describe Setting

This modest church is located in the rural north-central Hampshire County community of Green Spring, a primarily residential hamlet whose northern boundary is defined by a substantial rail yard and the Potomac River.

Description of Buildings or Site (Original and Present)

- 1 Story
- 1 Front Bays

1-story Gothic Revival-style church of wood construction, with a gable roof and gable-end orientation, with an entry tower which incorporates a double door capped with a lancet-arched transom above which is a small wheel window, followed by a louvered belfry and is capped with a pyramidal roof of standing-seem metal. An oversized lancet-arched window is on the façade, and the side elevations are three bays in width, penetrated by lancet-arched windows.
